I don't know nothing about South Carolina, I never could recollect, just can barely recollect heard about my father moving from there to Transylvania, and we lived there till in the time of the Confederate War, of the last year of the Confederates War and I don't remember that, but it was, I come to Jackson County and I've been in Jackson County ever since and it's changed a bit till now, and I'm still here yet, now iffen you folks now knows anything about when the Confederate War ended, why you can tell just how long I've been in Jackson County and in Swain.

-----

Well, I, I don't know but I guess we've been a-living on Indian Creek about fifty year, I never knowed nothing, only just work hard and to live hard all the time, but we tried to live honest.

-----

Well, that was about the best place ever I did live until I lived on Indian Creek, and I lived the rest of it.

-----

Well, oh we raised cattle and corn and made lots of stuff while we lived up there.

-----

Well, they done just like rest of us did, they worked hard and tried to live, and they's several families about, about thirty-three families lived up there.

-----

They was about thirty-three families lived there on Indian Creek when we lived up there, and they all worked and tried to make a living by hard work, the way we tried to live, and had a good time.

-----

They never had no fellowship there, they didn't have frolicking up in there much, sometimes they'd gather up a crowd of them and have a little praise, they never had time to, to have frolic, they just had to work too hard.
