Camouflaged by & Camouflaging Murder: The Many Identities of an “Ethnic German” Holocaust Perpetrator.

Using American, German, and Soviet sources, Eric Steinhart of the University of North Carolina and the Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies will examine the crimes and perennial self-inventions of Jack (a.k.a. Jakob) Reimer, a heavily implicated Volksdeutsche Holocaust perpetrator.

Tuesday, November 11
7:00pm
Gambrell 153

Sponsored by the History department, The Walker Institute of International and Area Studies, Jewish Studies and the Campus Outreach Lecture Program of the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum's Center for Advanced Holocaust Studies, which is supported by the generosity of Marvin and Rose Lee Pomerantz.