The South Carolina Institute of Archaeology and Anthropology, College of Arts and Sciences, University of South Carolina, and the American Battlefield Protection Program, National Park Service, invite battlefield archaeologists, preservationists, historians, and the public to the eighth Biennial International Conference on Battlefield Archaeology and “Preserving Fields of Conflict,” a battlefield preservation workshop.

Location: Marriott, 1200 Hampton Street, Columbia, S.C. 29201.

For questions or further information about the conference contact Steven D. Smith, (SCIAA, USC) sds@sc.edu.

For questions about the workshop contact Kristen McMasters, (ABPP, NPS) Kristen_McMasters@nps.gov or visit www.fieldsofconflict2014.com. Fields of Conflict Advisory Committee: Doug Scott (University of Nebraska), Lawrence Babits (East Carolina University), Tony Pollard (University of Glasgow), Charles Cobb (University of South Carolina).